June—July Menu / Week A

Notices:

- To parents of students in Years 7, 8, 9: The Headmaster has pleasure in inviting you to our first ever Prizegiving for junior Year Groups (Years 7, 8 and 9 only) next Friday 21st June. This event will take place at St. Dunstan's Church, Cranbrook, at 1.45pm (for a 2.00pm start), to conclude by .30pm at the latest. The guest speaker will be children's author Sufiya Ahmed who will have spent the morning in school with many of our Year 7 and 8 children on a creative writing workshop. There will be a strong programme of music at the event and lots of prizes to be issued! Tea and refreshments will be served afterwards. Do feel free to come along if you can.
- Major gas works update: Rye Road, Hawkhurst: Please find attached an email from SGN with details of changes to the timing of the gas main replacement along the Rye Road in Hawkhurst which begins on Monday 17th June. Information about the two diversion routes is also provided. Please see details here.
- PSHE curriculum: At Cranbrook, PSHE (personal, social, health and economic education) is taught to years 7-11 in a fortnightly lesson, with additional aspects addressed in tutorials and assemblies or special talks. The sixth form also receive PHSE through these additional opportunities. Although the PSHE curriculum at Cranbrook is updated yearly, it is time for an overhaul, especially considering the updates considered by the government this year. Mrs Sutton, the teacher in charge of PSHE, is interested in any aspects of PHSE that parents and students feel need more attention. As parents, if you have any views, please email Mrs Sutton SuttonS@cranbrook.kent.sch.uk by 26th June, for her to consider as part of the planning process. Students will be asked their views in school. The new PSHE curriculum will be published on the website in September and implemented in PSHE lessons and tutorials.
- Cranbrook Sports Week - Sports Route Coaching: Tom Swain will be running holiday sport camps at Cranbrook School during the Summer holidays. The Cranbrook Sports week offers an opportunity for children aged 6-15 to take part in and receive coaching in a number of sports including: football, cricket, tennis and squash, plus others, all delivered by qualified coaches and PE teachers. For more details please see here.
- 3 Day Hockey Academy: From Tuesday 27th—Thursday 29th August for children aged 9-14, Totally Hockey will be running a 3-day hockey academy at Cranbrook School. This includes intensive coaching by GB international player and Olympian John Shaw and a team of international players and qualified coaches. The cost is £90. To book, please visit their website www.totallyhockey.co.uk and complete the online booking form. For more information, call 07890 515 429.
- Cricket for Girls -'Train Like an England Cricketer': From Monday 12th—Friday 16th August Cricket for Girls is running a residential and day camp for aspiring female cricketers aged 11-17 at Charterhouse School in Surrey. The programme is designed to challenge and inspire young players, building technical, tactical, physical and mental skills in training sessions and workshops, with masterclasses from former England professionals Lydia Greenway and Beth Morgan.
