Welcome to Library NEWS!

CONTENTS:

- Word Search
- World Book Day news
- Book Reviews
- Book Recommendations

With the library reopening it was time to bring back library news! We are excited to share the fun with all of you, talk to Mrs Newman or Miss Clifford about including your own book review in our next edition.

This term we have some exciting events, including World Book Day and Wear What You Like Day which will be themed as dressing up as your favourite fictional character.

The library has some thrilling new additions to add to our shelves, such as the works of Sarah Waters and Virginia Woolf plus lots of new nonfiction too. Check them out!

We hope you enjoy!

A place called perfect by Helena Duggan

A thrilling mystery full of twists and turns throughout. If you want to get into reading, this book is for you! But otherwise, this book is perfect for anyone looking to pick up some engaging suspense story. How would you feel if the perfect world was not quiet what it seemed?

- Vee Sanderson (y12)

Dracula by Bram Stoker

A brilliant introduction to the Gothic genre. Jonathan Harker goes to visit the mysterious count Dracula at his castle in Transylvania, but he is unaware of the horrors which await him. Written in 1897, Dracula is till one of the most popular novels to this day and is perfect for those who love horror and suspense.

EDITORS' PICK

The story is told from the perspective of Patroclus who, exiled by his father to live in the court of Peleus, soon falls in love with his hosts son, the superhuman Achilles: from childhood, his demigod status means he is swifter, more beautiful and more skilled than his peers.
